What Linen Experts Think of Our Linens.

One day last week a linen salesman from a big wholesale house in New York city upon finding that he could not sell us anything, actually bought several samples of table damask and towels to send back to his firm, telling us they were the best values he'd ever seen for the money.

Here Are Some of The Special Values.

90c Irish Linen

Table Damask, 63c

Two yards wide, pure linen, full bleached and extra heavy. Five of the best patterns this season and, every one worth ninety cents a yard. Our price, 63c.

An Absorbent Huck

Towel, 10 Cents

It's a big Towel—22x42 inches—and will warrant the borders to be fast colors.

German Huck Towels, 20c

Genuine German goods and like the Irish damask—bought under price—20x35 inches—nicely hemstitched—white, red or blue borders.

Scotch Damask Towel, 19c

Another Pure-Linen Towel, silver bleached and hemstitched, in many handsome designs.

Social and Personal

Miss Addie Williams Bove, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Woodson Bove, and Lieutenant Harry Lumsden Hodges, of the United States army, were married last evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, No. 917 West Franklin Street, the Rev. Dr. Charles S. Gardner, pastor of Grace-Street Baptist Church, performing the ceremony.

Dr. Gardner stood in the front drawing-room, the altar with its drapery of white embroidered Canton crepe, its covering of white carnations, its fringing of maiden hair ferns, its silver and crystal candelabra, and its white wax candles, being placed before the front windows.

The color scheme of profuse floral decoration showed white and green in the parlors, where palms and chrysanthemums alternated with carnations and white roses, mantels being banked with the white carnations, and in the hall palms were grouped and smilax used with artistic effect on balustrades and in festooning gift work.

The piazza, opening from the rear drawing-room, was canvased in, draped with red, covered with white carnations and had its Eastern effect still further heightened by the deep glow of American Beauty roses.

In the dining-room pink prevailed. The table was bare except for a pair of white enameled chairs, an oval table holding a shower of La France roses and having a butterfly bow of pink ribbon in among the flowers. Pink ribbon bows encircled the lace on the tablecloth. The center was a pair of white enameled chairs, an oval table holding a shower of La France roses and having a butterfly bow of pink ribbon in among the flowers.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, garnished in lace and turquoise blue panne velvet applique. Mrs. N. W. Bove, the mother of the bride, was in a handsome black net embroidered with jet and sequin fringe. Her flowers were violets.

Mrs. Cary Ellis Stern was in white silk, the skirt laid in tufts and decorated with a row of white ribbons between; the waist having a bertha of embroidered folds forming a point, and edged with rose point lace; the sleeves slashed over accordion platings. She carried white violets.

Mrs. John Penn, of Martinsville, Va., in green silk, and over liberty satin; a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Stuart Bove, in black jet robe, worn above black liberty satin and chiffon; diamonds.

Mr. Robert Bruce Bove, in white panne crepe de chine, duchess lace, pearl embroidery and ornaments.

Immediately after the ceremony, and before the guests came in for the reception, the bride attended to the presentation of a spun candy basket, in which was placed the conventional bride's loaf, but a number of miniature bride's cakes laid, with the sixpence, the thimble, the ring and the darning needle hid in four of them. The drawing of the ribbon and the finding of the different symbols of matrimony occasioned much joy and merriment and laughter among the pretty group which gathered about the cake.

A large number of guests from a distance, friends of the family and the contracting parties, were present, and the parlor during reception hours presented a very brilliant appearance. After their wedding trip Lieutenant and Mrs. Hodges will be at Port San Houston, San Antonio, Texas.

Regrets are heard on all sides over the fact of Mrs. Hodges, who is a great social favorite, leaving Richmond.

Bridal gifts showered upon the young couple, included a pair of beautiful articles in silver, cut glass, china and others equally handsome and useful.

Miss Florrie Moody and Miss Elsie Taylor Cox, of this city, who came as bridesmaids in the wedding celebration at Lynchburg, Va.

Mrs. William Elliston is in Newport News attending the annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Union of Virginia.

The Richmond Howitzers will give a concert at the Howitzer's Armory Tuesday evening, November 10th, at 8 o'clock.

William; Miss Constance Tritton and Miss Caroline Vaden.

Mr. Herbert Spencer, of San Antonio, Tex., was best man.

The ushers were Mr. Randolph Tucker Coates, Mr. Samuel A. Patterson, Mr. George E. Gregory, Mr. Thomas A. Spencer, Mr. Philip Carleton, Mr. Frank Griggs, Mr. John Burke and Mr. William C. Pulliam.

Among the guests from a distance to attend the wedding were: Dr. and Mrs. Edward Magnus, of Charlottesville; Mrs. E. R. Spencer, the mother of the groom; Mr. Herbert Spencer, of San Antonio, Tex.; Dr. and Mrs. Anderson Wade Douthat, of Danville, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Burke, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Garrett, of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson Brown, of "Blairfield," near Bedford City.

Murphy—O'Connor.

The widespread interest felt in the Murphy—O'Connor wedding caused a large assembly of friends in St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning, to witness the ceremony which made Miss Mary Louise O'Connor the bride of Colonel John Murphy.

The Right Rev. Bishop Van de Vyver, the Rev. Father Joseph Magri and the Rev. Father A. K. Gwynne, of Greenville, S. C., were in the chancel.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Murphy left for a northern tour. The bride is from Charleston, S. C., though she has spent much of her time recently with her father, Mr. H. H. Clinton Boudier, of this city. She is a daughter of the late William Edmund O'Connor, and is prominently connected both in Charleston and Maryland. Colonel Murphy is one of the most genial and public spirited of citizens. As a popular hotel proprietor and a Confederate veteran, few men have a more enviable record than he has.

Cards have been sent out by Mrs. Katherine Walker Jones for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Alla Dawson, to Mr. Randolph Wellford Gunn, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of Richmond, Va., on Wednesday evening, November 18th, from 5 to 7 P. M., at No. 508 North Fifth Street, this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Isadora Lovenstein have issued invitations for the marriage reception of their daughter, Jeanne, to Mr. George Coleman, of Savannah, Ga., on Wednesday evening, November 18th, from 5 to 7 P. M., at No. 508 North Fifth Street, this city.

The Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, met yesterday afternoon in Lee Camp Hall, with Mrs. N. V. Randolph in the chair.

The report from the Norfolk convention was made and heard with great interest. The following delegates composed their report: Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Mrs. Hugh Miller, Mrs. J. H. Timberlake, Miss Betsey Ellyson, Mrs. Hugh Taylor, Mrs. George A. Lyon, Mrs. B. A. Blenner, Mrs. Edward Valentine and Mrs. W. H. Vawter.

A committee from the Stuart Monument Association, including Colonel Lamb, Captain Dimmock and Mr. Blanton, was present. Colonel Lamb and Captain Dimmock offered suggestions as to the various ways of raising the three thousand dollars needed to complete the monument fund.

It was finally determined to refer the matter to a committee of Daughters, to be appointed by the Norfolk convention.

Miss Florence Barlow, of Louisville, Ky., editor and manager of "The Lost Cause," was present at the meeting and made a few very pleasant remarks to the ladies. Miss Barlow, who has been spending a few days at Murphy's Hotel, will leave for home to-day.

During the Charleston convention, headquarters for the Daughters will be at the St. John Hotel, that city. The railway fare for delegates to go from Richmond and return, by the Atlantic Coast Line, will be $16.75.

A letter from the Chapter in Washington, D. C., was read, requesting the co-operation of the Richmond Chapter in raising a monument to the Confederate dead buried in Arlington Cemetery.

To-day, November 6th, is Donation Day at the Sheltering Arms Free Hospital.

A committee of ladies will be present to receive contributions and to make a report on the work of the hospital.

The Board of Managers will meet at the Home for Needy Confederate Women, No. 1726 Grove Avenue, this morning at 11 o'clock.

The report from the Newport News reunion will be made and other important business will be transacted. Two payments, amounting to about $2,500, have been recently made. With what has been invested in the Home and the Board of Managers now have about sixteen thousand dollars.

Personal Mention.

Colonel and Mrs. Harry S. Hodges, of Norfolk, who came to Richmond to attend the Hodges-Bove nuptials last night, are at the Jefferson Hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. Moses Hoge, Jr., Mr. Lewis D. Aylett, Mr. Austin Brockenbrough, Dr. Albert P. Mer and Miss Helen and guests at the Mitchell-Aylett wedding, near Aylett's, Va., to-day.

Mrs. Thomas, of New York, is visiting relatives in Richmond.

Miss Florrie Moody and Miss Elsie Taylor Cox, of this city, who came as bridesmaids in the wedding celebration at Lynchburg, Va.

Mrs. William Elliston is in Newport News attending the annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Union of Virginia.

The Richmond Howitzers will give a concert at the Howitzer's Armory Tuesday evening, November 10th, at 8 o'clock.

"BUNCH" ONLY SMILED.

Scale House Corner's Bad Woman in Jail Again.

"Bunch" wants to be known as a "bad woman." She is about as tough as they come, and wants the world to know it.

"I used to steal," she said in the Police Court yesterday, "but I have stopped."

"I used to drink and I don't drink now," she said.

"I used to be a thief and I am not a thief now," she said.

MANY WILL GO TO

CRATER REUNION

Occasion Near Petersburg Tomorrow to be an Inspiring One.

Great interest is felt here in the reunion of Mahone's men at the scene of the battle of the Crater to-morrow. Many members of Mahone's division are now living in Richmond and almost to a man

they will go.

The veterans of Lee and Pickett

Camps will go. The survivors of Oney

Battery and of the Howitzer Battery will go and every veteran of this city who can possibly get away will small powder

once more on the battlefield where more powder was used than on any of the entire war. The five Richmond companies of the Seventeenth Regiment, State Guard, will be present as will also the active organization of Howitzers' Battery.

It is an interesting fact that but one member of Lamkin's Battery, which held the field for several hours until Ma-hona's men came up and formed in front for the charge, is now living in this city. He is Dr. J. W. Eggleston, author of "Tuckahoe." This battery, at that time, a mortar battery, was directly in front of the Crater, and from early in the morning until about 11 o'clock when Mahone's men came from the left and formed in line, charging immediately thereafter.

The captain of Lamkin's battery, Captain N. Lamkin, of Amherst county, is still living in that county and most of the men of the battery came from that and adjacent counties. It is not expected that many, if any, are present at the reunion. Two members live in Amelia county, but it is understood that neither was in the Crater fight.

It is more than likely that Dr. Eggleston will be the only representative of Lamkin's Battery to attend. He has been sent a special invitation by Colonel Stuart

Bolling, also General Bolling and the cour-tes of the Petersburg Club have been extended him.

The guns of the Howitzers will be sent over this afternoon. The majority who go from Richmond will leave by the 9 o'clock train out of the city and will arrive at the depot to-morrow morning. Quite a number
